NEVER GREY

15th International Exhibition of Contemporary Art / 7.6. – 5.10.2025

„Those who think in black and white are dreading nuances.“ Jürgen Wilbert (*1945)

The conceptual approach of NEVER GREY addresses the dissolution of shadows, fogging, darkness, loss in personal, social and geopolitical space through to the perception and opening up of a 'colourful' diversity that surrounds us.

Colour, which is used as a catalyst, activates and intensifies perception in order to make the diverse viewing options and the colourful discourses and themes within the exhibition accessible.

The focus here is on the examination of current social issues in all their complexity. The curatorial approach focuses on the idea of colour as a material, as a substance, as a symbol, as a dialogue, as well as in the context of movement, poetry, ideology-free spirituality or science. Just as plants or animals use colours for courtship and survival, people also use them as a tool in their lives together. Colours are an expression of identity, of a cultural and political space.
